hugo marcus 1880 1966 was a man of many names and many identities born a german jew he converted to islam and took the name hamid becoming one of the most prominent muslims in germany prior to world war ii he was renamed israel by the nazis and sent to the sachsenhausen concentration camp before escaping to switzerland he was a gay man who never called himself gay but fought for homosexual rights and wrote queer fiction under the pen name Hans Alienus during his decades of exile in Germany. Jew-Muslim-Gay Marc David Baer uses Marcus's life and work to shed new light on a striking range of subjects including German Jewish history and anti-Semitism, Islam in Europe, Muslim-Jewish relations, and the history of the gay rights struggle. Baer explores how Marcus created a unique synthesis of German gay and Muslim identity that positioned Johann Wolfgang von Goethe as an intellectual and spiritual model. Marcus's life offers a new perspective on sexuality and on competing conceptions of gay identity in the multilayered world of interwar and postwar Europe. His unconventional story reveals new aspects of the interconnected histories of Jewish and Muslim individuals and communities, including Muslim responses to Nazism and Muslim experiences of the Holocaust. An intellectual biography of an exceptional yet little-known figure, German Jew-Muslim Gay illuminates the complexities of twentieth-century Europe's religious, sexual, and cultural politics.

The history provides an invaluable source of reference of the intellectual, literary, and religious heritage of the Arabic-speaking and Islamic world.

This volume comprises case studies of five centuries of European encounters with and imaginations of Africa, encompassing her triple religious heritage: African traditional religions, Christianity, and Islam. The introductory chapters outline the challenges and present overviews; some of them also analyze the early accounts of European travelers and missionaries. The following contributions examine the lasting legacy of the European Enlightenment in employing an ambivalent language of human equality and universalism while, in actual fact, consigning Africa to an inferior position. It has been difficult for Western scholars to divorce themselves wholly from the perceptions thus established. However, there have been quite different approaches. This is indicated in the papers discussing the role and impact of influential European academics, scholars of religion, theologians, historians, and social scientists during the colonial and postcolonial period. Other contributions examine specific institutional centers of African religious studies in Europe. The concluding chapters critically assess European approaches and their use for the study of religion in Africa from an African perspective.

Was sind die Bedingungen und Möglichkeiten interreligiösen Lernens im schulischen Religionsunterricht angesichts des heutigen kulturellen und religiösen Pluralismus? Im Horizont dieser Fragestellung entwickelt die Autorin zunächst Ansätze und Konturen eines eigenen Lösungsweges: einen interreligiös ausgerichteten, konfessionell kooperativen Religionsunterricht. Dieses Modell konkretisiert sie am Beispiel des christlich-islamischen Dialogs. In einem zweiten Schritt kommen die theologischen Traditionen der beiden abrahamitischen Religionen selbst zur Sprache, aus denen heraus die Rede vom Menschen und seinem Ethos begründet wird und sich Möglichkeiten zum Dialog und für die eigene Positionsbestimmung eröffnen. Im dritten und letzten Schritt wird ein Erprobungsmodell der vorgestellten Unterrichtskonzeption beschrieben. Die Autorin stellt sich den
